

Dear Families,

Northeast Foundation for Children (NEFC) is a nonprofit organization and the developer of the Responsive Classroom approach to teaching. We offer workshops, books, and other professional development resources for educators on the Responsive Classroom approach. From time to time our photographers and videographers go to schools to take photos or videotape teachers using Responsive Classroom practice. We use these images in our print and online publications, website, training materials, and promotional materials. We never publish the name of any student when we use these images.

On February 17–19 (snow dates are February 24–26), a photographer and videographer will be at Randolph Middle School capturing images. To use any photo or video footage with your child in it, we need your permission. Please indicate your permission or refusal by completing this form [link?].

We greatly appreciate your help in building greater awareness and knowledge of the Responsive Classroom approach among educators. And we hope the photographer's and videographer's visit will be a fun experience for your child. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me at allison@responsiveclassroom.org or 800-360-6332, ext. 143.

Sincerely,

Allison Henry
Manager of School and District Services
